

Benefits of Water Supply and Clean Water Initiative for Sacramento County

Wastewater recycling: $400 million. Any agency in Sacramento County can apply for these funds.

Urban water conservation: $300 million. Any agency in Sacramento County can apply for these funds.

Central Valley Flood Board: $150 million. These funds can go to implementing the Central Valley floodplan in Sacramento County.

Sacramento State University: $5 million. For water research.

Stormwater management: $400 million. Any agency in Sacramento County can apply for these funds.

Delta Conservancy: $100 million. Sacramento County is represented on the Delta Conservancy.

American River Parkway: $30 million.

Wildlife Conservation Board: $300 million. Includes funds for oak woodlands, habitat conservation plans, farmland conservation and other programs important in Sacramento County.

State parks: $150 million. All the many State Park units are eligible for these funds.

Resource Conservation Districts and agricultural lands: $60 million. All Sacramento County RCDs are eligible for these funds, as are agricultural land conservation programs.

Urban Streams: $50 million. Any agency in Sacramento County can apply for these funds.

Urban Forestry: $20 million. Any agency in Sacramento County can apply for these funds.

Delta Wastewater treatment: $15 million Legacy Delta towns in Sacramento County are eligible for these funds.

Non-motorized river and lake access: $20 million. These funds could be used in a wide variety of locations in Sacramento County.

Landscape conservation: $100 million. These funds are largely aimed at controlling invasive weeds that use water. A wide variety of areas in Sacramento County would be eligible.

Conservation Corps: $40 million. The California Conservation Corps and the Sacramento Regional Conservation Corps would be eligible for these funds.

Fisheries restoration: $1050 million. Many projects in Sacramento County would be eligible for funding.

Waterfowl habitat restoration: $280 million. Many projects in Sacramento County would be eligible for funding.

American River Basin Planning: $10 million. Projects approved by the Water Forum and Regional Water Authority.